

FASHION'S INFLUENCE

The newly renamed Couture Suite at The St. Regis Rome draws inspiration from the St. Regis "passion points" of fashion, art and literature, as well as the city's renowned design studios. Its signature furnishings and accessories celebrate the best of Italian style. In particular, the designers' muse was the couturier Valentino. With their timeless grace, emphasis upon flowing shapes and meticulous attention to detail, the essence of his creations has been woven into the rooms' design. The master bedroom features an elegant central living room where details unfold layer by layer. A high ceiling and neutral, linen-textured walls form the backdrop for its exquisitely luxurious materials and intricate embellishments, such as the nail-head trim on the timber panelling and millwork, the softest Italian leathers and finely stitched embroidery. A grand antiqued mirror above the fireplace reflects the light from the cascading glass rods of the shimmering chandelier. The three bedrooms evoke the glamour and display of the fashion catwalk.

Couture Suite, St Regis Hotel, Rome was designed by The Gallery at HBA London and completed in July 2012. Photography by Eric Laignel.

ST REGIS ROME

PHOTO CASEBOOK

